Remember to include a complete transcript when you submit your application.
If you have not taken the courses above, indicate when you intend to do so.

If you are a transfer student, indicate the grade from the equivalent course at your prior institution and include transcripts from all other colleges and universities which you have attended.

Please answer the following questions. Each of your answers should be clear and concise. Answers to the individual questions should not exceed 100 words. Answers to all of the questions should be typed and submitted along with you application.

- 1) Why do you want to enroll in the honors program in economics?
- 2) What topic do you want to research for your senior thesis?
- 3) What have you done so far to prepare yourself for this research endeavor?
- 4) What do you plan to do after you get you graduate from UC Irvine?

Students who wish to enroll in the honors program in economics must have an advisor for their senior thesis. It is your responsibility to find a topic and an advisor. We encourage you to visit the faculty during their office hours, talk to them about your research interests, and build an educational relationship with them.

To submit an honors application, you must have an advisor who has agreed to supervise your thesis. The advisor must be a professor, instructor, or faculty affiliated with the economics department. The advisor indicates his commitment to advise you by signing the form below.
